

Abstract

Sealed electric power generating product including: a base plate,
a power generating film laminated over said base plate, 5 at least one contact portion for contacting at least one pole of said power generating film, an electric conductor going through a blind hole perforated after the lamination through said base plate and between the internal side of said base plate and said contact portion, said electric conductor being 10 electrically connected with said contact portion.

(Fig. 7)